Baltimore's Pleasant Dreams
Mr. Robert M. Fryer of the Arrow Steamship Company proposes to transfer his ship-building interests to Baltimore. The American says: "A party of capitalists were gathered together, and in a short time, in a shipyard in Alexandria, the first steamer for the new line was started. She is now rapidly approaching completion, and will run from New York to Liverpool in six days. She will be called the Pocahontas." Other vessels of the line will be built in the same way in Baltimore.

A University Club Suggested.
At a meeting of Cornell University Alumni yesterday afternoon Mr. Green was elected president; Messrs. White, Wright and Corvill, vice-presidents. A committee was appointed to ascertain the advisability of holding the annual banquet, and a committee instructed to learn the sentiment of the other alumni organizations in the city regarding the formation of an association to have rooms for meeting in common.

Recent Robberies Reported.
Florence Howard, 225 Jackson Hall Court, reports the robbery of a dress. Henry L. Gosling, 1000 Eighth street northwest, reports that a colored man representing that he authorized him, called at his house and obtained a suit of clothes. J. T. Miller reports stolen from his stable yesterday a cart harness. R. E. Green, 1228 N. street northwest, reports stolen from him at All Saints' Church last night a blue overcoat.

Opening Their New Office.
The Great Falls Ice Company had a house warming to-day in their elegant new quarters, 924 Pennsylvania avenue. A banquet was prepared for their guests and all the leading business men in town who could spare an hour from their places of business were the guests of the company. President T. A. Lambert, Superintendent J. D. Bartlett, Treasurer F. Pilling and Book-keeper Danielson saw that nobody was neglected.

Escaped From the Hospital.

COLONEL FITZGERALD'S TRIAL.

The Defendant Testifies Regarding the Circumstances in Dispute.

In the perjury trial of Nathan W. Fitzgerald, now in progress in the Criminal Court, the defendant himself took the stand this morning. He stated that Newcomb, Olsen & Co. sued the firm of A. W. Morgan & Co., and he was served with a summons on December 27, 1887, to answer for $1,400. On January 22 they had a conference with reference to a settlement, which resulted in an agreement to dismiss the suit and pay the costs. He said that he would not enter into any agreement unless this suit was compromised.

Newcomb, Olsen & Co. expected to make and deliver machines to amount to between five and six thousand dollars. They agreed to dismiss the suit if he would give notes for the amount. Accordingly he gave them his check for $1,200, two notes for $1,200 each, the firm's note for $1,400 and his additional for $751.

They had never given him any notice that the suit had been dismissed, and when he made affidavit that service was not had on him in Indiana he did not have this suit in mind, but supposed it was another suit that had been brought on two of the notes of January 22. He did not even employ counsel in the Indiana case. The last two notes, Mr. Fitzgerald explained, were not paid, because he received word from Mr. Morgan that a number of the machines were not up to the proper standard.

AMUSEMENTS.

The diamonds worn by Miss Davenport in "La Tosca" are wonderful in beauty and brilliance. There's a double handful of them in pendants, rings, brooches, badges, necklaces, and they glitter in the spotlight like a million stars dropped into the irresistible glow of a rainbow.

"Daddy Nolan" to-night at Harris' Bijou.

The horse taming exhibition given by Professor Glasgow at the New York avenue rink last night was quite successful and very satisfactory. He easily conquered three or four ostentatious horses and made them as subservient as sheep. He has several bad ones booked for to-night, and an interesting exhibition will be given.

Tickets for Stradelski concert at Congregational Church Saturday evening for sale at Ellis' music store; reserved seats, 50 cents.

F. C. Rust, business manager for Salisbury's Troubadours, at Albion's next week, is in town. He is a ruster.

A Badly Frightened Celestial.

Quong Lee, a laundryman, on Seventh street, near I, blew a police whistle last night and was a thoroughly frightened Chinaman when Officer Hughes arrived on the scene. It is stated that John Williams, colored, drew a revolver on Quong while there was an altercation between them, and the gentleman from the Flower Kingdom nearly white. No further damage was done, however, and Williams was only required to forfeit $5 in the Police Court this morning.

A Bold Trick That Failed.
John Martin, a colored youth about 19 years of age, forged the name of Mrs. Harden yesterday to a note asking Mr. Jewell, the grocer at the corner of Ninth and M streets northwest, for $21.50. This note he gave to a companion named Saunders, who presented it. The peculiar orthography of the note aroused Mr. Jewell's suspicion and he detained Saunders until he called for Officer McNeal. In the Police Court this morning Martin was tried on the charge of forgery and given ninety days.

INAUGURATION NOTES.

Adjutant-General Hastings, as chief of staff to Governor Beaver, grand marshal of the Inauguration parade, has decided to divide the column into six divisions. The first division will consist of the United States Army Corps and National Guard of the District of Columbia, comprising about 500 men. Pennsylvania's National Guard, which will march down the Avenue 8,000 strong, will comprise the second division. It will be under command of Major-General Hartranft. The third division, which will comprise all the remaining military organizations—10,000 men or more—will be under the command of some prominent soldier, who has not yet been decided upon, although several names are under consideration. In the fourth division will be the Veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic and camps of the Sons of Veterans—several thousand strong—under command of General William Warner of Missouri, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic of the United States. The fifth and sixth divisions will be composed of all civil organizations, including the political clubs, social societies and citizens' delegations. Mr. M. M. Parker, vice-chairman of the Inauguration committee, will be marshal of the fifth division, but the marshal of the sixth division has not yet been appointed.

The Public Comfort Committee met last night and Chairman Wright reported that he had quarters for 42,707 people, 17,707 had been assigned to quarters and that restaurateurs had submitted estimates that they could board 75,000 people.

The Unconditional Club of Albany is to be quartered at the American House.

The Harrison Flambé Club of Bay City, Mich., has sent word that they will give a special train the day before the Inauguration.

People along the Avenue have been seen by members of the committee, and they all expressed an intention to decorate their places handsomely.

Two thousand of the ball tickets, souvenirs and programmes have been received and will be placed on sale the first of the month.

The decorations of the Pension Building for the Inauguration Ball will be begun about the 20th of February.

Remnant Day

"STORE NEWS"

BY

WOODWARD & LOTHROP.

We take account of stock to-night. The success of our Stock-taking Remnant Sale the past four days impels us to thank our patrons for their liberal response to our announcements. We can but take it as an expression of your approval of our business methods, and your appreciation of our efforts to give you bargains—the best money's worth possibly procurable.

We have refrained from quoting the former price of any goods reduced or advertised; nor have we endeavored to mislead you by stating they were worth so much. As we previously remarked in this column, we do not believe that because a piece of goods sold for a certain price some five, ten or twenty years ago, we are justified in quoting it as being worth that price now. Calico, in war times, sold for a dollar a yard. Suppose we advertised "Calico, formerly one dollar, now 6c. per yard, what would you think of us? No! Goods will bring all they are worth, and are worth only what they will bring. We are reducing a piece of goods we do so, not from philanthropic motives, but from necessity. We know we sell as low as equality—goods can possibly be bought—in many instances lower.

Friday has always been our regular Weekly Remnant Day, consequently to-morrow we shall hold the sale as usual, and shall include all of the unsold reduced goods that have been previously advertised, and also all goods that come to light from the stock-taking search this evening. Rum-maging in corners, under counters, behind shelves, etc., is quite apt to discover some merchandise that "ought to have been sold long ago."

All such, and our usual accumulation of "Short Lengths," "Odd Sizes," Broken Lots, etc., will be placed on sale to-morrow morning at greatly reduced, or remnant prices.

THE DISTRICT GOVERNMENT.

The Commissioners last evening filled the vacancy in the rank of Lieutenant in the Police Department by promoting Lieutenant L. H. Hollnberger, vice H. C. Radway deceased. Acting Sergeant W. F. Falvey has been promoted to sergeant. Second-Class Private R. W. Montgomery is made acting sergeant, vice Falvey; First-Class Private W. W. Kasey is made a second-class private, and Oase Klinger has been appointed on the force as a first-class private, all to go into effect February 1, 1889. Lieutenant Hollnberger is about 50 years old, and is over six feet in height. He is a native of Baltimore, and came here in 1880. He was appointed on the police force in January, 1887, and was promoted to the rank of sergeant in January, 1887. He will remain on duty at Police Headquarters until the new station-house is completed in East Washington. His promotion gives general satisfaction. Two bills have been introduced in Congress for the relief of Mrs. E. G. C. Abbott. One provides for the payment to her of $5,000 for services rendered to the District as a detective, and the other for $100,000 damages for false arrest and imprisonment in the First Precinct Station-House for ten hours. Inspector Scudville reports that he has no knowledge of any detective services ever rendered by her to the District. Mrs. Abbott has been storming the detective and the Commissioners' offices, and claims to have been committed to all the great crimes that have been committed, and also to have been instrumental in the capture of every noted criminal in this country and Europe for several years.

Major Stine's Collection.

A Washington man, Major J. H. Stine, is making a collection of branches from trees that grew on the great battle-fields in the late war. He has just received from a Virginia friend pieces of pine from Chancellorsville, cedar from Slaughter's Mountain and from Hancock's winter quarters in 1863-64.—Exchange.
